- Exceptional features include 90 holes of award-winning golf; the celebrated Spa La Quinta; 23 clay, grass and hard-surface tennis courts; and seven distinctive restaurants - all wrapped in a captivating setting of citrus trees, towering palms, 41 sparkling pools and fountains, and brilliant blooms at the foot of the Santa Rosa Mountains.
- Guests are accommodated in charming Spanish-style casitas, all with private patios, and many with fireplaces and outdoor hot spas. All feature deluxe Talavera-tiled bathrooms and sophisticated technology for entertainment and work, including high-speed Internet access. More than 100 one- to three-bedroom suites include amenities ranging from full- and limited-use kitchens to private pools and hot spas.
- Pampering treatments at Spa La Quinta draw inspiration from surrounding citrus groves, the desert's ancient healing arts and contemporary wellness techniques. The outdoor spa experience takes precedence, with open-air treatment rooms, signature La Quinta Celestial Showers®, private outdoor garden baths, and the Sanctuary Courtyard. The spa also features the Yamaguchi Salon, acclaimed for its feng shui approach to beauty.
- La Quinta Resort & Club and PGA WEST® are renowned for their 90 holes of spectacular golf. Guests can play five championship courses designed by the masters - from Dye and Norman to Nicklaus and Palmer - all with breathtaking desert layouts. There are trails for biking and hiking; guests can browse the boutiques surrounding the resort's central Plaza; and the more adventurous can explore the desert by jeep or horseback.
